SunnyBands & DMAHistogram

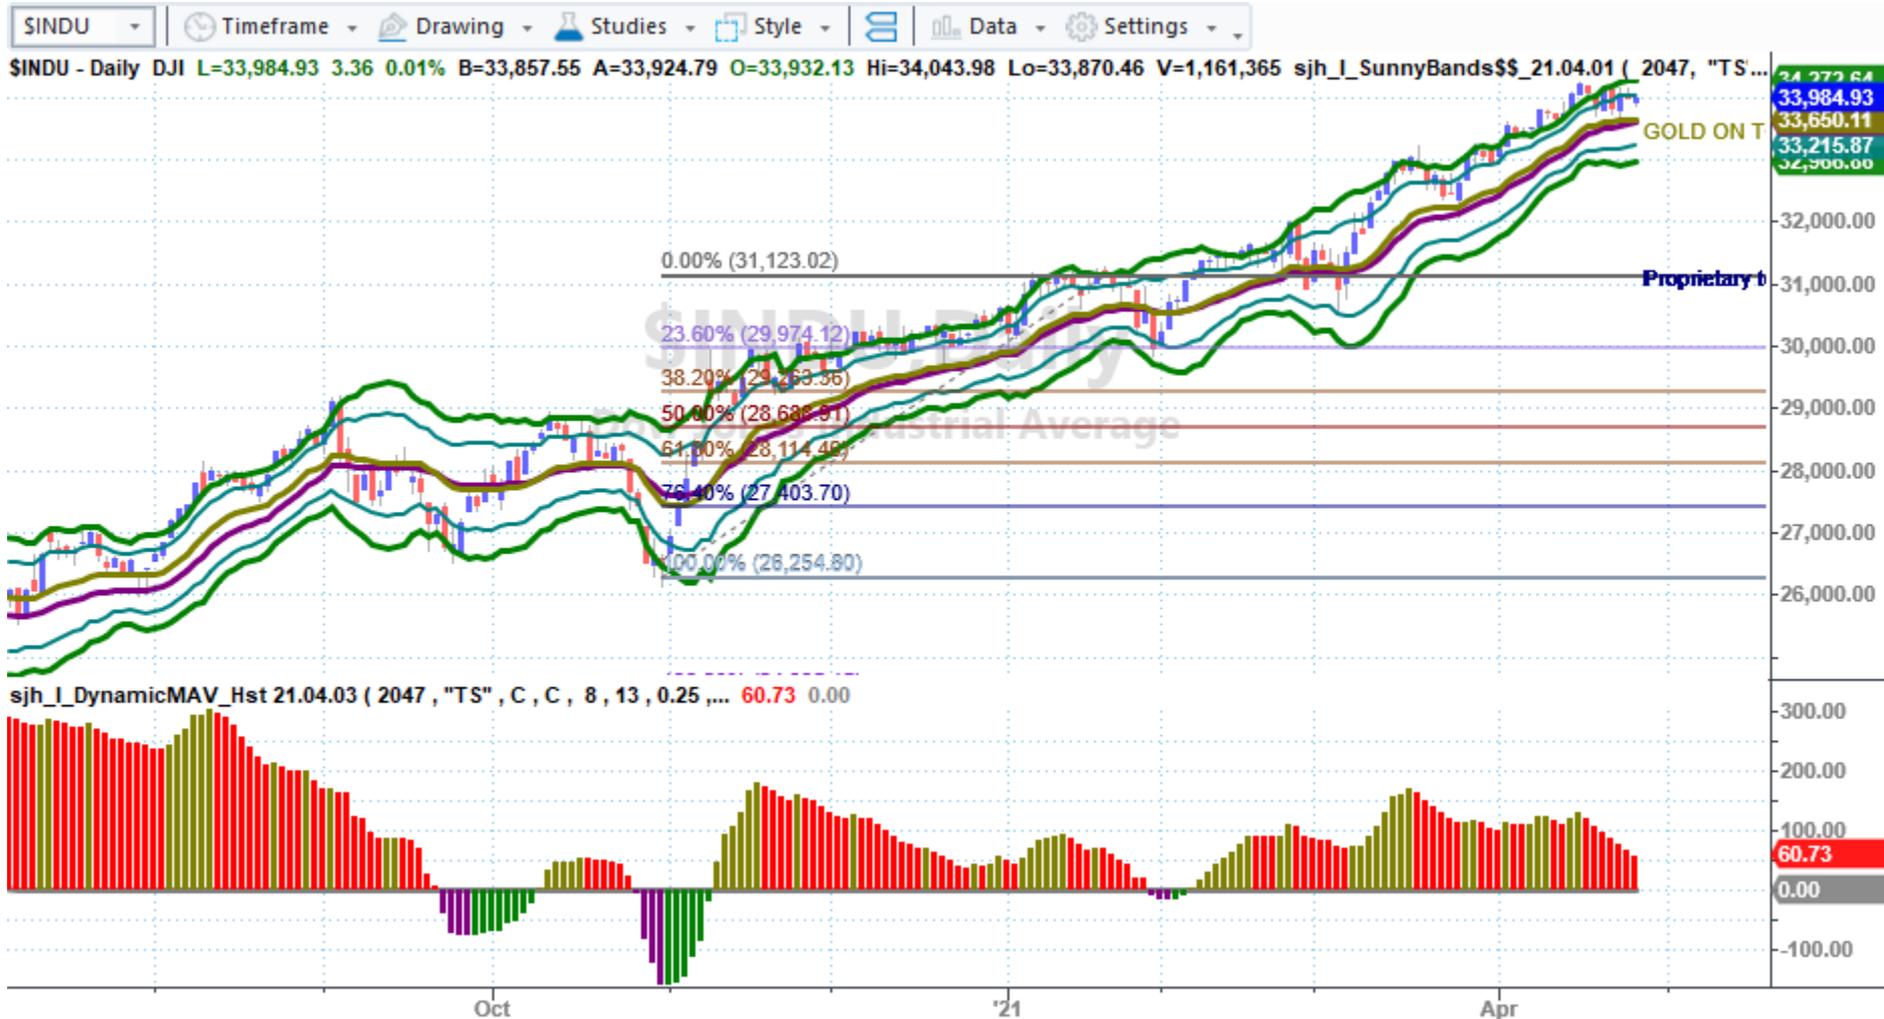

I use SunnyBands AND

- My DMA Histogram
- Fibonacci retracements & projections
- Attractors
- No news
- No reports
- No fundamentals
- No newsletter gurus
- Only math

Let's go back a slide

- To the Fibonacci chart with the SunnyBands

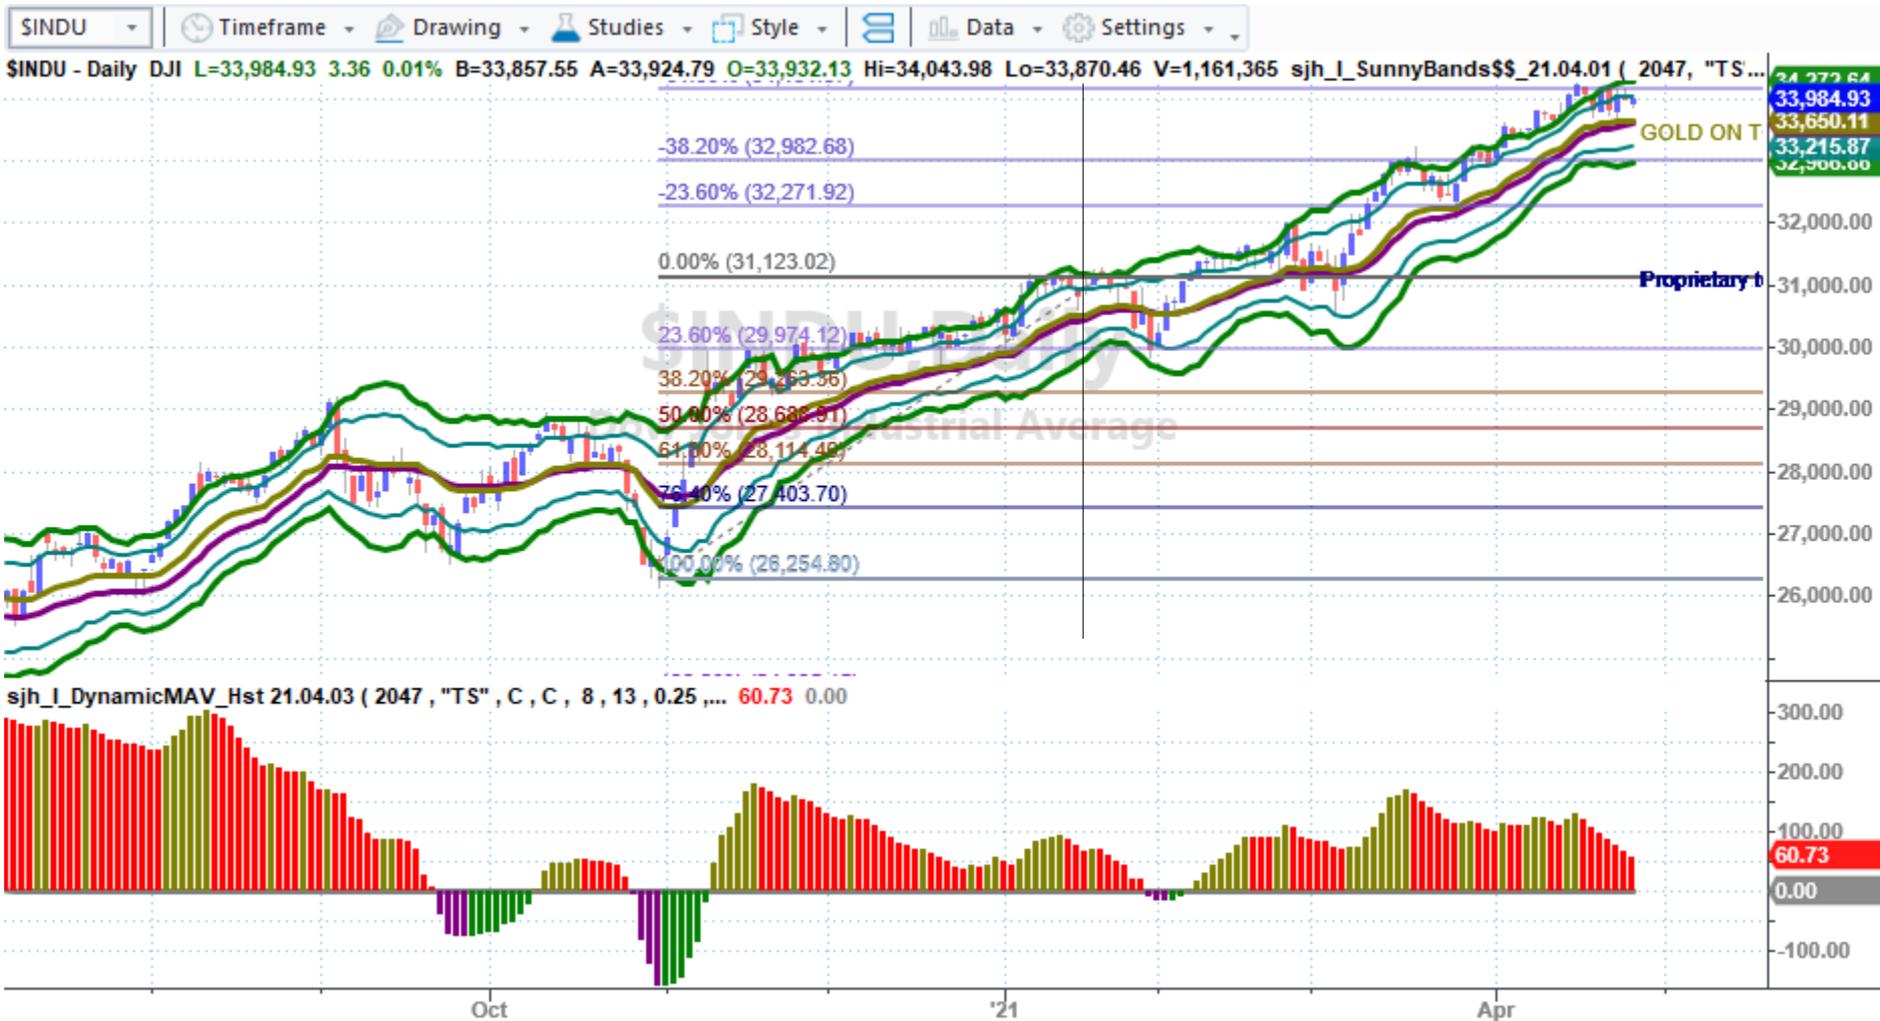

SunnyBands & DMAHistogram

Take a Look

- I drew the Fib lines from the bottom at 10/30/2020, to the then-high on 1/31/2021. They beautifully showed support along the way.
- What I was looking for is “where is the market going now?”
- And what happens when I show you the rest of the chart?

SunnyBands & Fibonacci

Take a look closely

- The vertical line is where the market was when I drew the Fibonacci lines
- The Fibonacci lines perfectly show the support and resistance along the way
- AND the top Fib line is 150% up from the bottom, RIGHT WHERE THE MARKET WAS at the then-top of 34,221
- That's why I predicted a correction on my FB page when Dow was at ATH.

I was Early

- I saw a potential correction
- But I was a little bit early
- The Dow continued on to make H(H)s
- But the correction came, nevertheless
- And yesterday we exceeded the predicted low of 33,563 down to 33,473

Just now ·

On 5/1/21 I posted I tho't Dow would correct to 33,563. It beat that today with a low of 33,473.80. The Fibonacci 61.8 extension from the March 2020 low is 33,329. We could still drop to that level. Note that SunnyBands lower-inner band was touched, but the move looks like it could correct to the lower-outer band at 33,053. Be wary.

Accessing My FREE Predictions

- If you go to Facebook and look for Sunny Harris you'll see where I post my free market predictions as I see them
- You can Also Opt-In for my free “Sunny Side of the Street” here
- I've called for rising markets when everyone else was watching for a crash
- I've called for corrections when everyone else was buying
- My latest prediction was posted....

Facebook Prediction

- On Apr 21, '21 I said:
- Looks like that resistance on the Dow is holding. Market has turned down from the 34,102 level slightly. I have several tools pointing to a retracement to 32,953. Keep your powder dry.
- Dow is down 279 points as I write this

How Do I Do It?

- I realized early in my trading that Whipsaw kills traders
- Markets trend 30% of the time and drift 70% of the time
- It's during the drifting that most traders lose money
- I used sophisticated math to create my DynamicMovingAverage (DMA)

Take a Peak

$$S = \sum_{i=1}^N (y_i - y'_i)^2 = \sum_{i=1}^N [y_i - (c_1 + c_2 x_i)]^2 = \sum_{i=1}^N [y_i - c_1 - c_2 x_i]^2.$$

Taking derivatives and setting equal to zero, we obtain the system:

$$\frac{\partial S}{\partial c_1} = (-2) \sum_{i=1}^N (y_i - c_1 - c_2 x_i) = 0$$

$$\frac{\partial S}{\partial c_2} = (-2) \sum_{i=1}^N (y_i - c_1 - c_2 x_i) (x_i) = 0.$$

Rearranging yields the two simultaneous equations:

$$Nc_1 + \left(\sum_{i=1}^N x_i \right) c_2 = \sum_{i=1}^N y_i$$

$$\left(\sum_{i=1}^N x_i \right) c_1 + \left(\sum_{i=1}^N x_i^2 \right) c_2 = \sum_{i=1}^N (x_i y_i).$$

Thus, to find the best least squares fit, we need only perform the summations and solve the system of equations. An extension of this same method is used to find a system of equations for fitting a polynomial of any degree to a data set. The resulting system of equations, called the normal equations, may be written as follows:

$$Nc_1 + \sum_{i=1}^N x_i c_2 + \cdots + \sum_{i=1}^N x_i^m c_{m+1} = \sum_{i=1}^N y_i$$

DMA (Dynamic Moving Average)

- It is “magical” in its ability to avoid whipsaw, and thus reduce losses common to most traders
- It has sophisticated mathematical formulae built-in, which took me 3 solid years to develop
- (And don't forget, I'm a degreed Mathematician)
- To display the SunnyBands, and all their magic, I add variable AverageTrueRanges (ATR) to the sophistication of the DMA

There are Other MAVs

- Simple MAVs
- Exponential MAVs
- Weighted MAVs
- Triangular MAVs
- Volume Weighted
- Adaptive
- Adaptive Fltr
- Sunny's DMA

My DynamicMovingAverage (DMA)

What Is True?

- This question informs ALL of my trading
- In fact, it informs all of my life
- It is the way to form conclusions
- It is the way to create strategies
- So,
- What is true of my DMA?

What is True of DMA?

- 1st when the gold line is on top, the market is moving generally upward & vice versa:

What is True of DMA?

- 2nd we notice that when the DMA is flat, so is the market; not good to trade.

From there I added Bands

And my SunnyBands look like this:

SunnyBands Definition

- My DMA in the center to highlight market direction
- A 1.2 ATR band on either side of the DMA
- A 2.0 ATR band on either side of the DMA
- Again, let's take a look at the bands

You Can Optimize

- Both the input values `j_BuyDay` and `j_BuyTarget` can be optimized
- So, let's run it from `0:6:1` on `j_BuyDay`
 - That tries it on every day
- And from `0:1000:100` on `j_BuyTarget`
 - And that checks all profit targets from none to $1000 in steps of $100

How I Personally Trade

- The 1st things I put on any chart I look at are Attractors
 - I coined the term to describe all kinds of S&R including MAVs where price tends to revert to the mean
- The next thing I put on a chart is my SunnyBands indicator
 - It is based on my DynamicMovingAverage (gold & purple lines) in the center of the bands

How I Trade: Attractors

How I Trade: SunnyBands

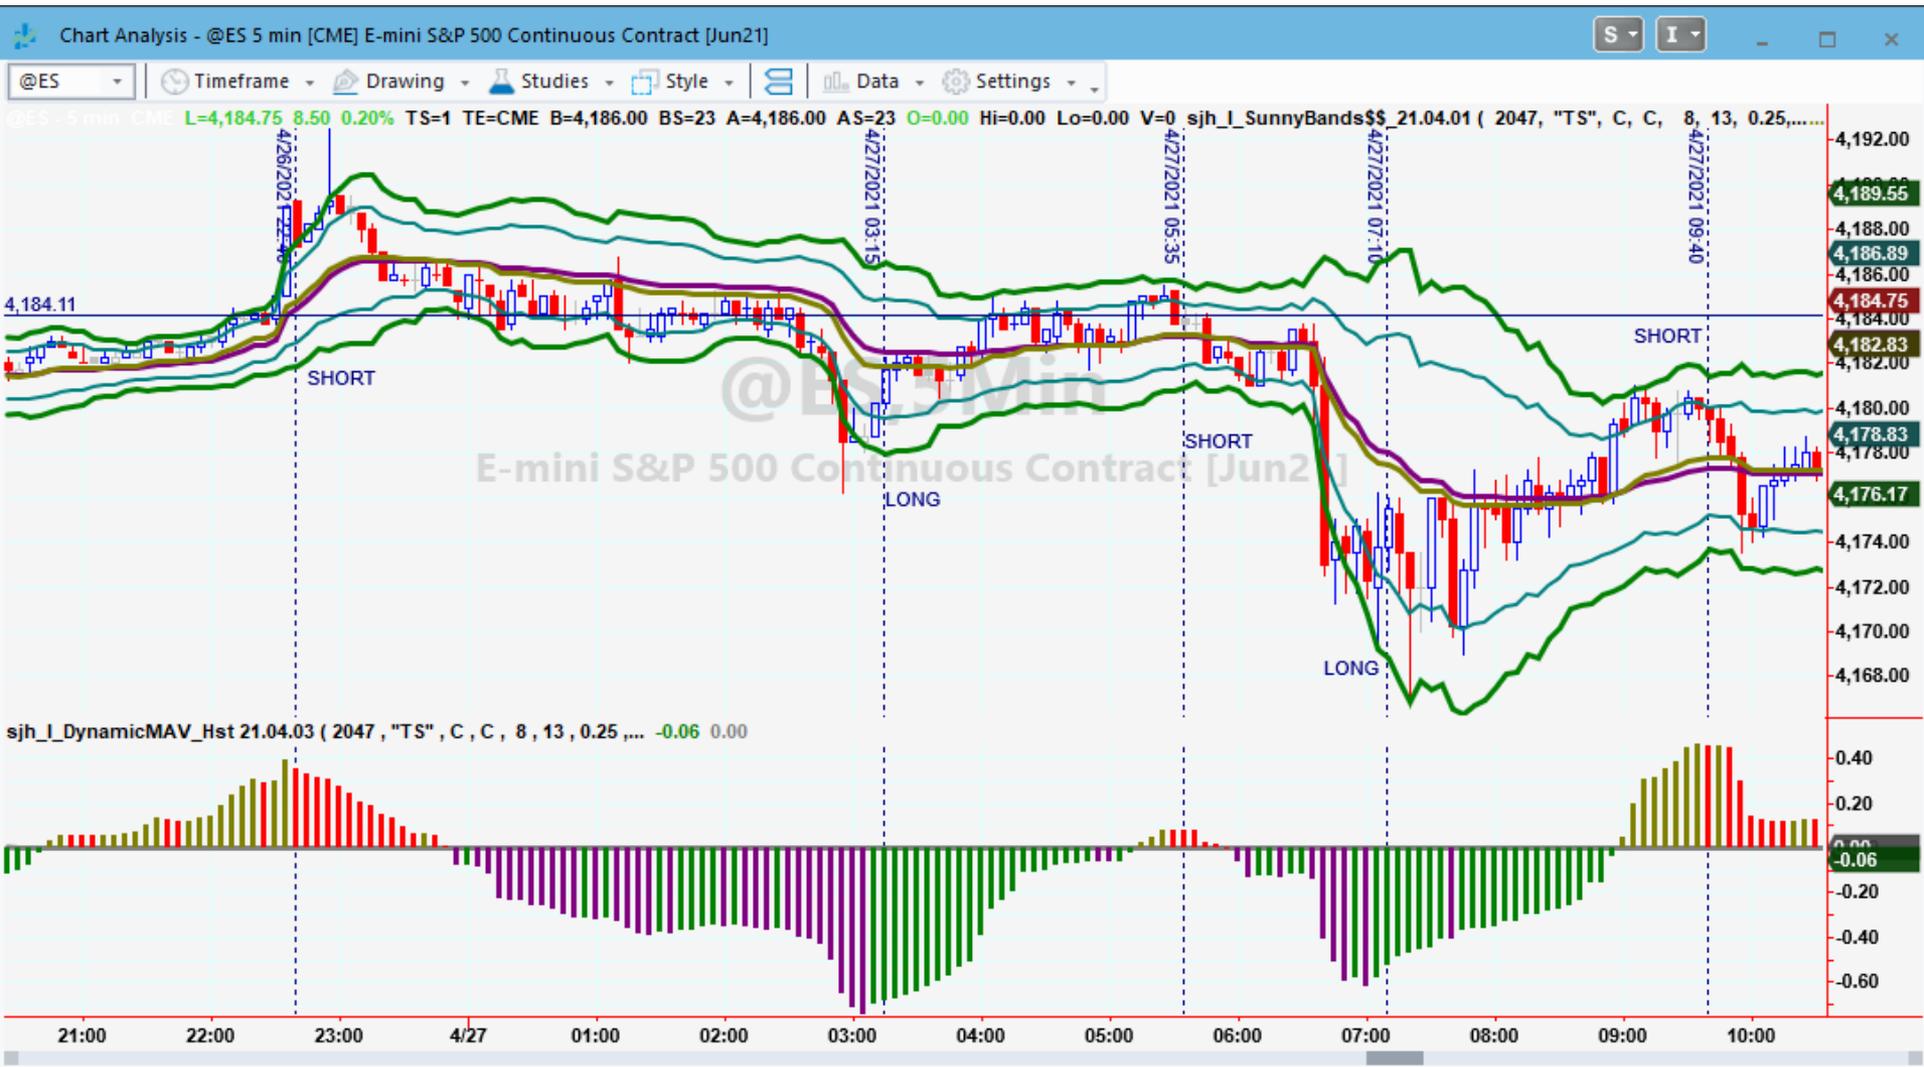

How I Trade: DMA

- The DMA crossover is the macro clue
- But it isn't early enough for me
- So, I created SunnyBands which is faster
- Then I created DMA_Histogram (DMA_H) which is even more precise

How I Trade: SB & DMA_H

Look at the DMA_H Turns

That's all there is to it

- I look at the Attractors
- I look at VantagePoint
- I study the DMA
- and the SunnyBands
- I trade the eMini on 1-min & 5-min charts
- I trade many times a day
- With equities, I buy and hold for weeks to months

Next Step

- With SunnyBands and my DMA_H on a 1-minute chart, I add a 5-minute chart to show me the “long-term” trend
- This is tricky, so refer to my YouTube channel to put 2 SunnyBands with 2 datastreams on one chart

CONSULTING, COACHING & MENTORING

Ask all the questions you want; have Sunny lead you down the paths to success. After 30+ years of trading and research, she's been through it all. "Nothing teaches better and faster than making mistakes -- and I've made my share." Even so, EDUCATION IS MUCH CHEAPER THAN DRAWDOWN!

Click here to read our Consulting flyer or our Education flyer. Click here to see what other people say about Sunny's products. Here's just one example: "It's been a pleasure working and meeting with you. Since our meeting the strategies have produced 10 positive trades in a row."

I only take serious students. If you are a tire kicker, not really ready to pursue a career of trading, kick somewhere else.
